

Syllabification state machine

AfterFirstVowel = the first vowel letter of the first syllable has been processed. It may be followed by another vowel letter that is still part of the same syllable.

RestOfWord or AfterLongVowelOrDiphthong = beyond the nucleus of the first syllable. Combinations like "ie" are broken into two syllables.